Message

On the occasion of the publication of the Annual Year Book for the academic year of 1962-1963 of the General Navereau High School, I would like to express my best wishes to both staff and students. I have been encouraged, as I am sure you have been also, by the rising standards that are being achieved at our school for the past few years and I look forward to the continuation of this trend. This has been achieved by the joint and co-operative efforts of pupils and teachers and I congratulate both equally.

Your High School years form the basic building blocks and corner - stones of your future life, and although it may be difficult for you to realize, at this time, the importance of these years, I hope you will take my assurance that this is vitally so. I share with your parents the hope that your days at the General Navereau High School will serve you well in your coming years. You will receive in later life in proportion to the efforts that you are making in these school years.

I would like to commend all the pupils for their fine level of behaviour in the past year. It is encouraging and promising to see this.

Good luck to you all. May all your grades be A's.

(L. E. Wray) Air Vice-Marshal
Air Officer Commanding
No. 1 Air Division RCAF

Principal's Message

Your editor has asked for a message directed to the youthful subscribers of our year-book. Recently I came across the following memory-gem contained in a letter to a Canadian newspaper.

"Always we hear the plaintive cry of the teen-agers: 'What can we do? Where can we go?'

"I can make some suggestions: Go home. Remove the storm windows. Paint the wood-work. Rake the leaves. Mow the lawn. Learn to cook. Scrub the floors. Repair the sink. Get a new job. Help your pastor, the Red Cross, the Salvation Army. Assist the poor. Study your lessons. And when you're through--and not too tired--read a good book.

"Your parents do not owe you entertainment. The world does not owe you a living. Your city does not owe you fancied amusements. You owe the world something. You owe it your time and energy, and your talents, so that no one will be at war or in poverty, or sick, or lonely again.

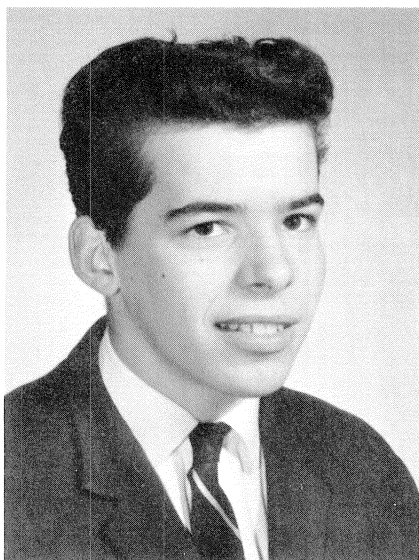

"In plain simple words: Grow up; quit being a baby; get out of your dream world; develop a backbone, not a wishbone; and start acting like a man or lady.

"I'm a parent. I'm tired of nursing, protecting, helping, appealing, begging, excusing, tolerating, denying myself needed comforts for your every whim and fancy, just because your selfish ego, instead of common sense, dominates your personality and thinking."

An old Latin proverb says "If the cap fits you, wear it."

To everyone, however, regardless whether the cap fits or not, I wish the very best in your June examinations.

LARRY SCHAUFELE

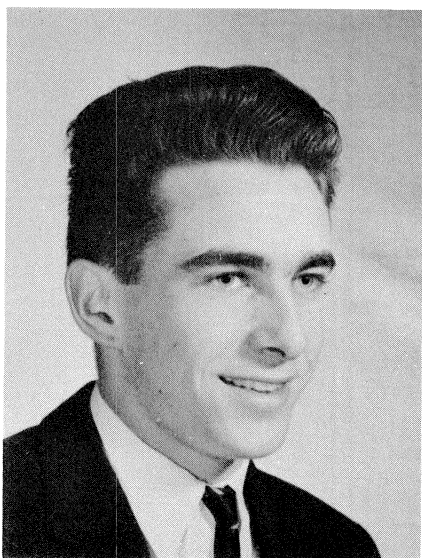

The Yearbook Staff has had the task of presenting to the student body a record of this year's activities, both athletic and social, so that in future years when one looks back to the past, he may be able to relive some of the experiences and memories of the present school year.

The students of this school can be justifiably proud of their sports record during the 1962 - 1963 season. The Football Team brought the Bank of Montreal Trophy, the symbol of inter-wing supremacy in football, to Metz for the second consecutive year. The Senior Basketball Team climaxed a fine season by winning the inter-wing championship, and in addition, by virtue of defeating the team from Soest Senior School, the champions of the 4th Canadian Infantry Brigade Group, became Canadian European High School Champions. All the General Navereau teams have displayed a combination of hard, clean competition and a fine standard of sportsmanship on the playing fields.

As in sports, the various social and extra-curricular activities have been equally successful and well-attended. Credit must go to both students and staff who helped in making this aspect of school life a rewarding and enriching experience.

Owing to the cover design offered by the publishers, this year we decided to change the name of the General Navereau Yearbook. The one we finally agreed upon was "ASTRA", which is taken from the motto of the Royal Canadian Air Force, "Per Ardua Ad Astra".

Finally, I would like to take this opportunity to thank both students and staff who have contributed to this year's edition of the yearbook. In spite of the fact that we began late in the year due to technical problems, I hope that the ASTRA will, in later years, bring back fond memories of our school days in Metz, France.

The School President

The passage of each academic year witnesses and proudly records the physical growth of our school and of its curricular and extra-curricular expansion--particularly in the realms of sports and athletics. In this respect, a greater onus of responsibility has fallen on the shoulders of the Students' Council in the organization and promotion of these activities, particularly the social functions carried out under the experienced and vigilant eye of the School Administration.

In assessing the achievements of the past year, I am happy to be able to acknowledge the enthusiasm of the Executive and the keen support of the class representatives. Their unstinted help and teamwork has saved me many a headache and has crowned the Students' Council with many laurel wreaths.

I thank the Staff Representatives for their invaluable help in making our organization efficient and effective.

It has been the pride of the Students' Council to have shown in the past year, as in the preceeding years, zest and enthusiasm in their undertakings. It is in this frame of mind that I wish succeeding Students' Councils and student bodies greater success and outstanding achievements "ad multos annos".

It has been a fruitful experience and indeed a privilege to have served as President of the Students' Council.

Alan Connor

TEACHING STAFF

MR. MacNAMARA is an Honours graduate from the University of Toronto in English and History. He brings experience from industry, military and teaching careers to General Navereau. A retired Wing Commander, his interests lie in the Arts, Politics and motoring. He intends to attend a French course at the University of Poitiers Summer School during the holidays to better equip himself to discuss blackboard-cleaning problems with the French janitorial help. The Summer School will be held at La Rochelle.

MR. EISELE, our Vice-Principal, has been coach of Navereau teams for the past two years. This year, his boys presented him with two championship trophies--football and basketball, and he is at present awaiting a third; track and field. Besides comparing theories on athletic training with his wife and dreaming of playing golf, he tries to encourage his two sons in sports. Mr. Eisele is a graduate of the University of Toronto in Biology and Physical Education.

MR. CORNISH is noted for ingenious methods of extending Christmas vacations. A graduate of the University of Toronto, he heads the Commercial Department at General Navereau. A retired beatnick and one-time saxophone player, he is sometimes noted for a dry sense of humour.

MISS CROTEAU hails from the Province of Quebec and the University of Montreal. Teaching French and Commercial subjects, this French Canadian Miss, spends much of her time in the mornings waiting for Mr. Murzello to drive her to school.

MISS GRANT, a graduate of the University of Toronto in Classics, teaches Latin and English. She spent an enjoyable vacation in Paris last summer learning French and her favourite occupation is spraining her ankle while skiing. Miss Grant will be staying for a third year to avoid the problems of packing.

MR. GRIFFIN graduated from the University of Montreal. He enjoys travel, hunting and fishing, the latter no doubt resulting from his years in the Arctic with the Department of Northern affairs. At present, he is heading a campaign to remove bus travel from the Metz - St. Avold highway.

MR. GOWER is from Acadia University and as a result of a naval career, enjoys explaining navigation and such 'allied' subjects as physics and geometry. Mr. Gower's main ambition at present is "just to get back to Canada". The 40,000 miles he has put on his speedometer helps to show the extent of his continental ramblings.

MISS HORAN'S most important interests at present are in her forthcoming trip to Canada where she intends to be married. She enjoys music, modern art and dancing and comes from the University of British Columbia. She teaches Math and commercial subjects.

Teaching Staff--Continued

MISS KINNAIRD is returning to teach in Hamilton, Ontario, at the conclusion of "two delightful years in Europe". When Miss Kinnaird is not debating plumbing systems with French landlords, she enjoys travelling and teaching French. Her Alma Mater is the University of Western Ontario.

MISS LYSTER, a graduate of the University of Saskatchewan, is the mainstay of our Grade XIII. She would be indebted for life to anyone who could show her a sure-fire method of experimenting with obnoxious odours without inhaling them or having fits of coughing. She plans to continue teaching in Metz.

MR. MacKINNON is another graduate of the University of Toronto. An Honours graduate in History, he enjoys exploring old battlefields, ruins and cafes of historical significance. When not driving his grey Mercedes and fixing clocks in the classrooms, he works on historical essays of the area.

MISS McKESSOCK is a graduate from Queen's University in Math and Science. An enthusiastic sports fan, she enjoys badminton, tennis and goldfish. On asking her about her experiences in Europe, we received this quotable quote, "I've done so much in Europe. She leaves this year to take up a position in Toronto.

MR. MURZELLO, our English teacher, is a graduate of the University of Bombay and the University of London. Music, art and dabbling in athletic activities have occupied his spare time although he feels that teaching is a full-time career. Well-travelled, Mr. Murzello is leaving for Canada this year along with a new car to test on western roads.

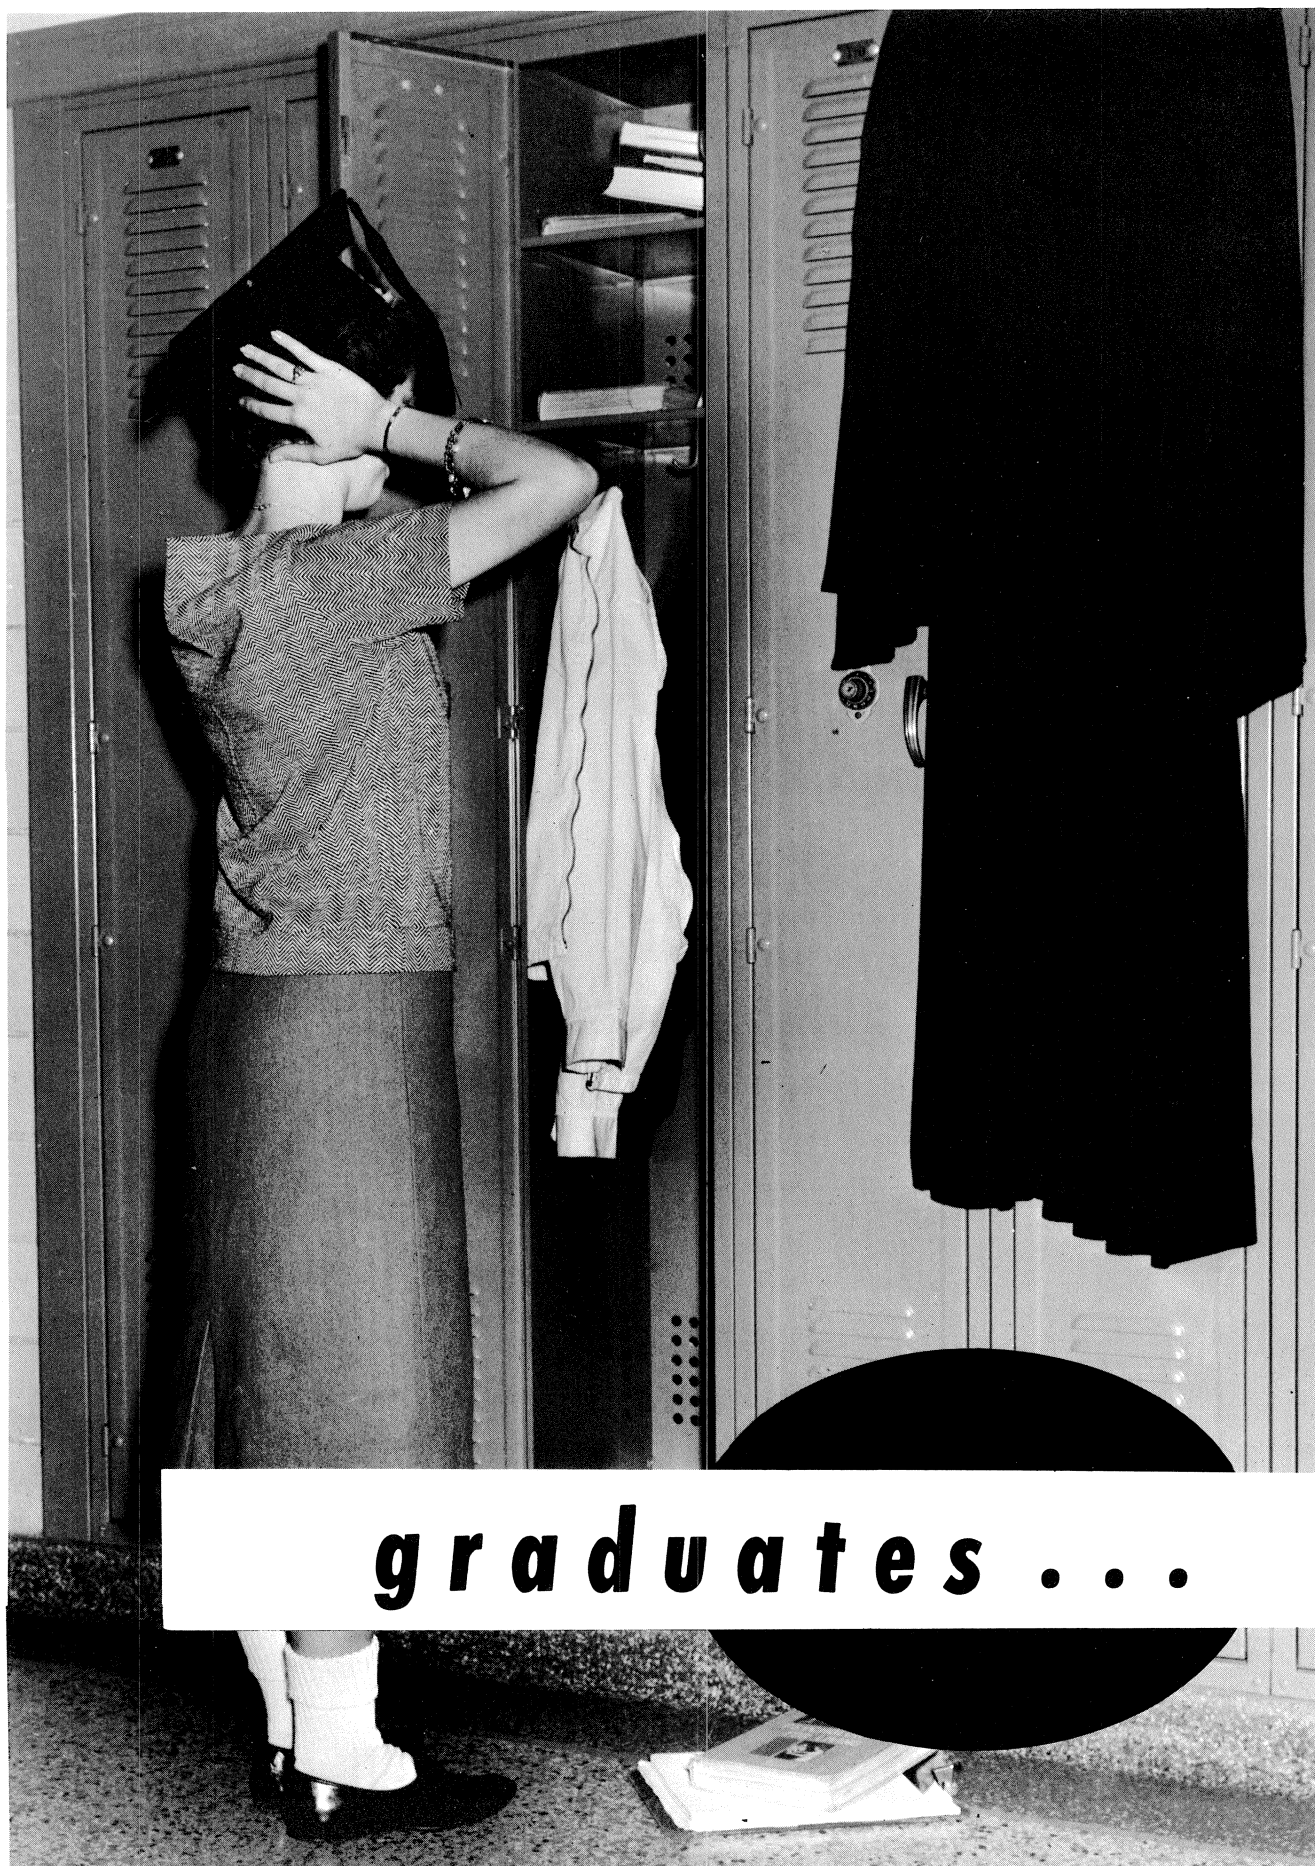

MR. PROTHERO, keenly interested in such things as the Metz Climate, sports, photography and camping is a graduate in Geography from the University of Western Ontario. The following rhyme sums up his Italian adventure at Easter:

Mr. Prothero,
Unfortunate Schnook,
While visiting Italy,
Twice got took.

MISS RAFFERTY is our girls' gym teacher and is another graduate from the University of Toronto. She is a specialist in both English and Physical Education. Keenly interested in travel, her red Volkswagon can often be seen speeding to unknown places on Fridays after school. She also improves her French by discussing plumbing and architectural problems with French landlords.

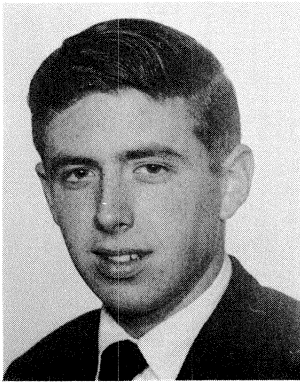

MR. RODRIGUE, the Rocket Richard of the Metz Hockey Team, is a graduate of Laval University. He made a profitable trip back to Canada this summer and returned with a wife. The Metz population will be increased by one sometimes early in the summer.

MISS SCHMIDT, our school secretary, is a lovely blonde native of Metz. After listening to complaints about France and the praises of Canada for three years, she has decided to go to Canada to check for herself. Mr. Kidd has kindly offered his services as an escort and they will be married in July. Miss Schmidt had this to say, "The plumbing better be good".

Grade 13 Graduates

GARY BOWLBY: The girls' favourite boy, Gary is a sharp dresser and a pace setter for men's hair styles. The expression, "still waters run deep", applies here for, although very quiet in class, he has another far different side hidden away from Mr. Murzello. From here, Gary intends to go to Dalhousie for their Arts Course. After that, the future appears a bit uncertain, but we think that he may end up as a marriage counselor.

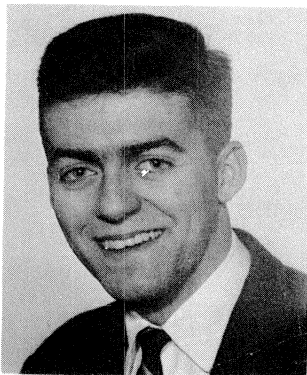

PEGGY WARD: Although it is axiomatic that gentlemen prefer blondes, the guys of the Senior class are agreed on two points; one, that they are undoubtedly gentlemen, and two, that Peggy is their favourite. A newcomer, who will soon return to the smog and fog from whence she came, Peggy "P-NUTS" Ward will study Arts and Science at U. B. C. after her regrettably short stay here. She will not hazard a guess as to what comes after university, but there is no doubt as to where it will take place—B. C., of course.

GARY BALL: Like most spherical containers, Gary's life is well rounded with a succession of things, such as arguments, Judo (he's deadly, man), arguments, school work, arguments, football, arguments, electronics and an occasional heated discussion. Gary has a lot of traits, some good, some bad, the chief of which is a remarkable affinity for people, especially honey-blond ones. He is bound for the University of Toronto where, if he does not electrocute himself or his professor, he will become an Electrical Engineer.

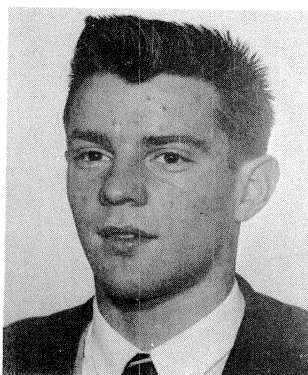

RON CHARKO: Ron, definitely an intellectual (he wears horn-rimmed glasses), usually arrives at school driving a pale green Renault and wearing a rainbow hued scarf to protect a delicate throat condition, which requires constant medication. He hopes to attend Queens next year, where he will study Civil Engineering. Persons wishing to contact this young man should apply at the Hall of Mirrors and ask for the Chief of the Air Staff. If you find him, and you are of the fairer sex, undoubtedly his first query will be "Que fais-tu demain soir?"

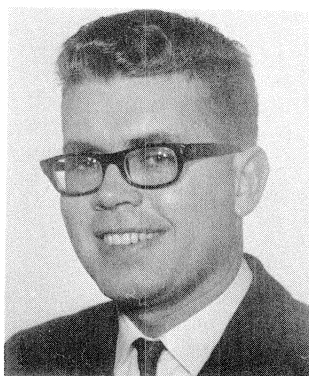

ED DOUCETTE: This guy is another scholar, (wears horn-rimmed glasses) and exemplifies the strong silent type, for anything he says is well thought out beforehand. When not studying, Ed enthralls us with his guitar, but this year has given up everything in favour of studies, although he is still a firm athletic supporter. Headed for Toronto University and Electrical Engineering, he is a sure-fire success. Usual comment on any subject, "Now before the austerity program....."

WENDY DALE: This slim gal with the honey-blond hair and the Cossack boots, aspires to the campus of Carleton U. where she will study Arts with an aim to social work. Wendy's cranial assets enable her to maintain an enviable average in school, and thus, give her plenty of time for extra-curricular activities, a fact which she makes the most of. She is the best dressed girl at G. N. H. S., which ties in closely with expensive tastes and a love for champagne. Favourite expression, "Stop that, I like it."

WALLY FOSTER: Wally, probably the hardest working guy in the class, still finds time to sell gas in the holidays and act as public relations man for the Guardhouse. He is headed for R. M. C. where he will study Civil Engineering and, just as he is here, rank as an All-Star athlete, both in class and out. His favourite expression is undoubtedly the one he uses the most often; "I forgot but I'll have it by tomorrow."

DON HATHAWAY: Although Don, the third intellectual of our class is a "furriner" (hailing from the West), he holds the exalted position of patriarch of the 13 tribe. A growing family, scouting, stamp collecting and even short periods of work at 601 fill in every second of his tiny allotment of spare time. We all wish him the greatest success in his course in Engineering Physics at Sir George Williams University, in Montreal.

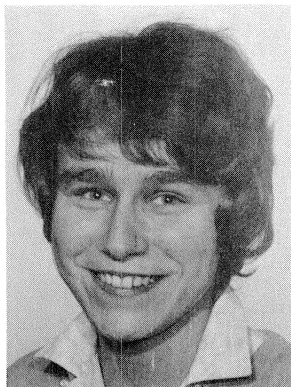

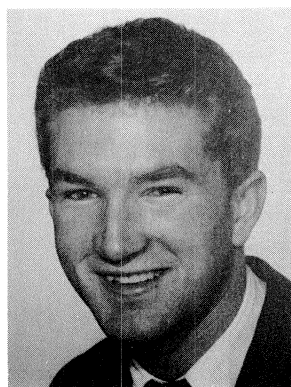

MRS. M. TRASK: The expression "like father like son" is a common one, but in our class it is more like "like son like mother", for Muriel has taken the place of her erstwhile offspring, and if she doesn't quite fill his shoes literally, she certainly does spiritually. She claims that school-work is a hobby but we all hope that someone will one day be lucky enough to call her "teacher." Commonest expression (so we are told) is "Now Dave, be sure to come in early."

PETER BARIL: Pete is a bit of a contradiction. Who ever heard of a military type who sings ballads? Yet military he is, for he has his heart set on a career in the R. C. A. F. (where else) after he gains a degree in Electrical Engineering at R. M. C. Pete is a busy lad, for he is active in sports, especially as the quarterback for the best high school football team in Europe, yet he still finds time for a study of French architecture, with special emphasis on the Governor's Palace.

FRANCES MacNAMARA: Sure an' she's the cutest bit of a colleen that you ever did see! Frances, despite her Irish heritage is one of our Latin Scholars and she will no doubt pass her final year with ease if she manages to stay clear of the Principal's office. If she succeeds, she intends to study Arts at the University of Toronto--an ambition that seems a cinch, although we hope she does not disturb their English classes the way she does ours.

PAT RUSHTON: If one wished to make the biggest understatement of the year, it would only be necessary to say that Pat is a shy, timid sort of character. Brash is the adjective for this guy, for he goes into everything from school life to sports with the same vim, vigah and vitality. A strong contender for the Clown of Navereau title, Pat can make a mummy laugh with his impersonations and wisecracks--or for that matter, a daddy. He returned to the Land of the Round Door-knobs at Christmas, and we hope the folks in Eganville are enjoying him as much as we did.

BOB McCLELLAND: Robert "Tiny" McClelland is the favourite customer of the local body shops due to an inherent hostility complex towards anything on four wheels, especially if it is an Opel. Bob has his sights set on a life as a draughtsman, a trade for which he is presently training in his capacity as a "drawer of draft". He was the mainstay of our football line this season and it will be a great loss when he departs.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF GRADE XIII

Be it known, that we the undersigned, being of sound mind and body, do declare this to be our last Will and Testament:

Peter Baril - leaves to M. I. 5, the plots which he and Mr. Rodrigue hatch in some strange language before Trig. classes.

Ron Charko - leaves to Dawn the prize statement of the year: "What was our Algebra assignment, Mam?"

Don Hathaway - bequeaths our next most elderly student the pleasure of alerts, measles and shift-work during exams.

Peggy Ward - leaves to anyone who wants them, a year of wasted spare periods. Yes, Gary???

Gary Bowlby - relinquishes his titles as holder of the world's records for: tying up French classes and the 10-second dash to the lunch room.

Gary Ball - leaves to any gourmet, one year's supply of slightly chewed pens, pencils and erasers.

Wally Foster - is willing to part with a set of most literary lab reports and one slightly torn calendar.

Francis MacNamara - to the next Irish student, a desk and chair, upholstered in--what else? Shamrocks!

Wendy Dale - leaves her loud booming voice and an extensive collection of deal-hoopers.

Ed Doucet - had thought of leaving his guitar behind, but changed his mind and leaves his half-eaten book-marks to Gary.

The entire class leaves to next year's XIII's the 3:30 high-level conferences at the corner table. We hope you enjoy them as much as we did.

Also, we of the graduating class feel we owe a great debt to our teachers and we would like to suggest a gift which would make their year complete.

To:

Miss Lyster - R. O. T. P. Board interviews and medicals during the Easter Holidays.

Mr. Murzello - a brand new green and white varsity scarf.

Mr. Gower - a pocket-sized, errorless computer.

Miss Kinnaird - a French class that can spell.

Miss Grant - a larger Latin class.

Mr. Rodrigue - a school that doesn't have French classes for him to teach.

Mr. MacKinnon - a school amplifier for next year's variety show.

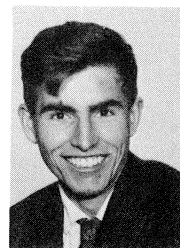

Mr. Eisele - a day with 44 hours.

Mr. Prothero - a combination basketball and globe.

GRADE 12 CLASS WRITE-UPS

BRIAN BALL "Girls, Girls, Girls"

Brian, another of our grade 12 comedians, is a friend to all and keeps the class in stitches with his crazy antics. He can be found teasing all the girls and hopes to become a wealthy farmer in Geussling, France.

RON BAUMAN "The Savage"

"Crusher" Bauman, a keen football player, contents himself with driving Glenda around in the "Green Bomb" which he occasionally lends to his father. Leading in Algebra class, we hope he will achieve success in life.

JULIE BELAND "Where the Boys Are"

A fine student, excelling in History, and a good friend to all, Julie unfortunately left for Ramstein early in the year. Good luck Julie--we all miss you.

MIKE BLAIR "Small Sad Sam"

Mike is the busiest member of our class and has a strange effect on teachers. Cracking jokes, hitting Brian, talking and combing his locks seem to occupy the majority of his time. Mike's biggest ambition is to find a better scooter.

LESLEY BROWN "Limbo Rock"

Lesley, the girl with the "get up and go", could always be found with a certain someone in grade 13, but has left us for Canada. Lesley gained renown as an active supporter of all sports and captain of the cheerleaders.

BOB CAREY "Beep-Beep"

Bob just came to us this year after a short tour of the world. Well-liked by everyone, Bob already has made many friends. His interests include wrecking fenders, jumbling housing-files and swatting flies.

LYNN EVANS "So Long, It's Been Good to Know You"

This pretty little lass left our presence in late December. We sure hope she's enjoying herself back in Ottawa. Her greatest enjoyment was attending ballet classes.

ERNIE FERNE "Wild One"

New to GNHS this year, Ernie was a most valuable addition to our football, volleyball and basketball teams. If you're looking for Ernie, try the gym or Claire's desk and you will find him laughing over some joke.

MARLA GATZ "Auf Weidersen My Dear"

One of our academically inclined students, she also took time out for extra activities. If not for Marla, there would have been no ref. for the girls' volleyball team. Good luck, Marla.

GLENDA GILBERT "When I Fall In Love"

Another member of the grapevine, Glenda has her future definitely cut out for her! A whiz at school, she has plenty of time for the cheerleaders, her hobbies: somebody's jokes and somebody.

GRACE GILBERT "Let's Twist"

Grace is known for her hearty laugh and her radiant smile. This charming asset to our class can always be found dreaming of her future as a nurse. We wish her lots of luck in the medical profession.

MARLENE HACK "Hey There Blue Eyes"

This cute little blonde drifted into town and immediately became a part of school life. Her agility and lightness has made her a success in gymnastics. Marlene's sense of order should ensure her a successful teaching career.

MARY HUCKINS "Bye Bye Blues"

Although one of the quiet students in grade 12, Mary can always be relied upon for a laugh, and often comes up with some very different ideas. We wish Mary a successful future in the commercial world.

ANTHONY HUMPHREY "Just For Kicks"

Heart-crusher Tony is a shy but intelligent student. Enthusiastic at sports, he has proved a valuable addition to the school teams. He's heading for ROTP and we're sure he'll make it. Good luck, Tony!

FRANK KELLERMAN "He's a Rebel"

Who's the center of this group of giggling girls? It's Frank, with his well timed remarks and witty puns. Frank can also be found tapping out a rythm on any substitute for a drum or admiring a passing Volkswagon.

CAROLYN KENWELL "Home Sweet Home"

This miss, a new addition to our class, has left her heart in good old Canada. We all wish her the best of luck in the near future and hope her wish will some day come true.

MRS. P. LEWIS "Sweet Old Fashioned Girl"

The pride and joy of the commercial class, she is holding her own with the younger set. With her present training, she plans to set herself up as a career woman. Lots of luck, Mrs. Lewis!

FAYE LEONARD "Dreamin"

Faye, as the newest addition to our class, has left her heart in the "Land of the Round Door Knobs." We wish her the best of everything, and hope she finds happiness back in her home town.

CLAIRE MARION "Right Next Door to an Angel"

Active in sports, Claire spends most of her time at the Rec. Centre (watching Ernie) or in the classroom carrying on little gossip sessions with the other girls. Claire's budding ambition is to understand teachers.

CAROL MAYER "Annie Get Your Gun"

"Ma" Mayer, a valuable addition to the Drama Club, has shown that 2 Wing's loss is our gain. Her sense of humour and warm personality has caused many a riot in our most depressing moments. Thank's Carol!

TERRY HUDSON "Bachelor Boy"

Terry is a rather quiet guy, but once the ice is broken he can be amusing. A keen basketball player, he has helped the team a great deal.

BRIAN MILLAGE "The Wanderer"

A rather quiet student, but fun to be with after class. Brian is a keen football player and enjoys playing the accordian. We sincerely wish Brian lots of success in the years ahead.

JOAN MURRAY "Hey There"

This cute demoiselle is a nice combination of personality, charm and intelligence. As a member of the cheerleaders, Joan has taken an active part in school activities and social life.

ALAN O'CONNOR "Moonlight Gambler"

Although Alan is president of our Students' Council, a member of our volleyball, basketball and football teams, he manages to keep his marks well above average. With such talent, he can certainly be assured of much success in the future.

LARRY SCHAUFEELE "I Could Have Danced All Night"

Looks, brains and personality will be a sure advantage to his success in C. M. R. His numerous activities (yearbook editor, football, basketball, volleyball and gymnastics) fail to interfere with school work. He has a preference for blondes--Marlene is sure proof!

BILL SHARPE "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes"

Bill, as his name implies, is a bright student and good in sports. A favourite among the girls, he's an interesting conversationalist and unfailingly produces a good laugh. Best of luck, Bill.

JIM SPURRILL "I'm Coming Home"

Jim was one of the airmen who attended General Naverreau. He unfortunately had to leave us in February for Sydney, Nova Scotia. Lots of luck in the future, Jim!

MARY SUKEY "She'll Be Coming Round the Mountain When She Comes"

Although one of the quieter members of our class, Mary has been a great asset, both by ranking highly in class and as an ardent cheerleader. The whole group joins in wishing her success in future life.

GILL WOOD "Telstar"

A refugee from gay Paree, Gill doesn't say much in class, but makes up for it after school hours. Speaking both French and English, Gill is very popular with both boys and garcons. Success in the future is inevitable.

LESLEY WALKER "The Great Pretender"

This active Miss participates in her favourite sports--basketball and volleyball. Her future hope is to be a secretary. What an asset this young lady will be to an office!

KEN WHITE "My Little Corner of the World"

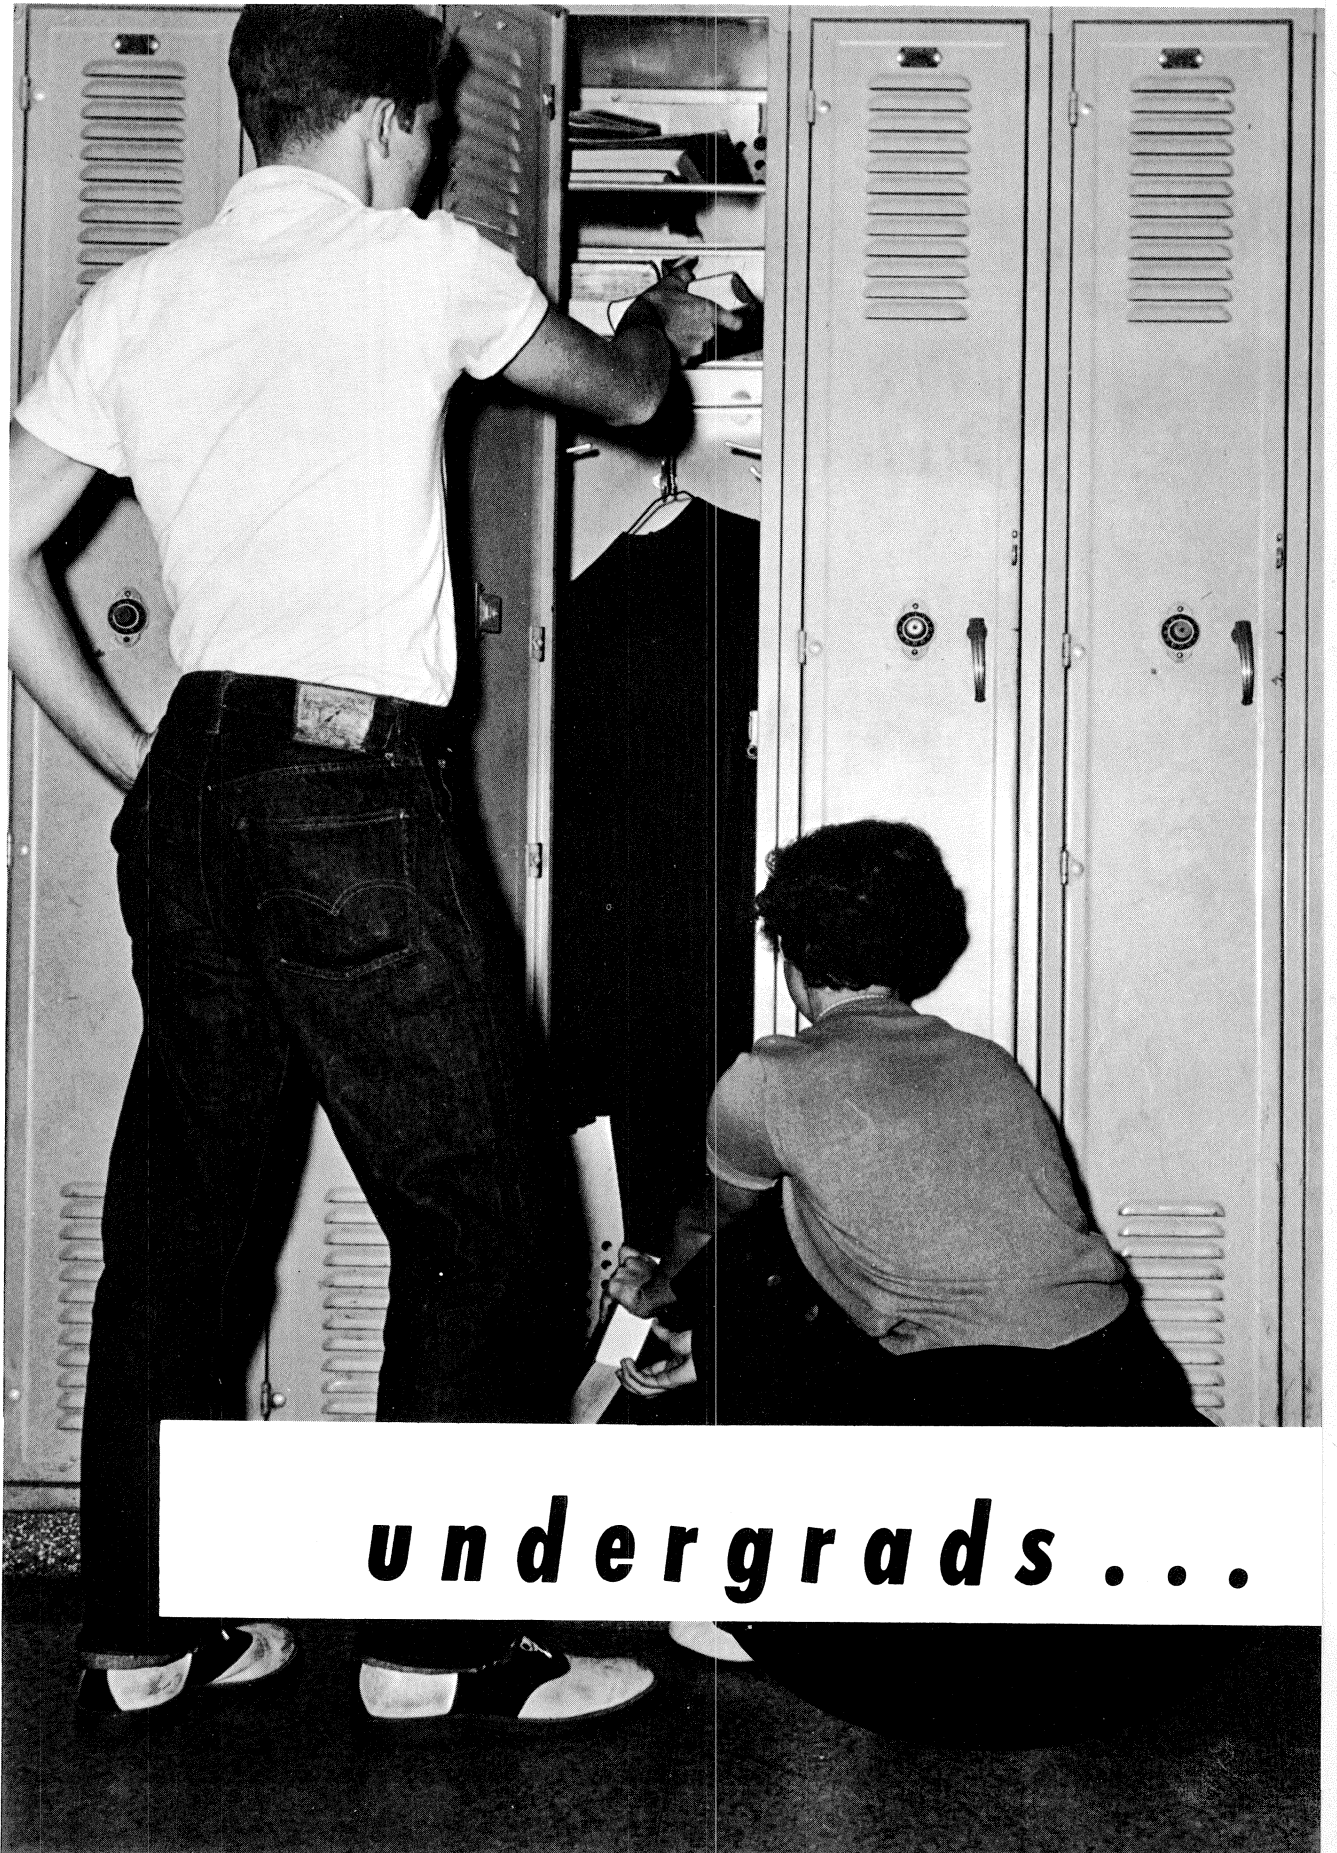

Ken is one of the quietest members, but he often manages to liven up things in the classroom with his good-natured humour. Engineering seems to have caught this lad's eye.

LORRAINE WOOD "G. I. Blues"

Mix beauty and brains and you've got Lorraine. With her pleasant smile and joyful outlook on life, this Miss will go far in the secretarial field. She leaves for Canada this summer--good luck, Lorraine!

DAPHNE WRAY "I Love Paris"

Everyone admires Daphne's gorgeous red hair. Well liked by everyone, we are sure she will be a success in her future career. Anyone for Paris?

Grade 11 L

FRONT ROW: B. Ramsay, S. Brown, L. Wright, N. Drew, G. Bradshaw, R. Wray, M. Amendola

MARILYN AMENDOLA, one of the quiet members of 11-L, is both attractive and a good student. Recess finds her with Wally, and her main interests seem to be Wally, clothes, Wally and hair-do's. She hopes to be a business consultant.

GREG GIBSON—"Greg! Are you sleeping AGAIN?" is the common explosion from many a teacher. As well as having perfected a system for sleeping in class, Greg enjoys basketball. His main interests include girls and hit tunes.

NANCY DREW, as a firm upholder of quelque endroit, Bagotville, is invariably defending it against supporters of Metz. Her interests revolve around Teen-Aires. This clever student hopes to become a sociologist.

LINDA WRIGHT, a quiet and studious worker, shows get-up-and-go on the school volleyball team. Active in P. T., she is noted for being a "Good Sport." Linda's pet peeve is people who "try" to be funny! She hopes to be a writer.

GAIL BRADSHAW, an attractive blonde, enjoys frequent "ruler duels" with Dave. Weekly riding lessons and reading occupy her spare time. Gail would like to be a doctor, and with such a noble profession in mind, we wish her luck.

DAVE LEDOUX is the good-looking Vice-President of the Students' Council and he helped to spur the school football team to victory. His main ambition is to learn one instrumental without Ed's help. His interests are girls and guitars, and looking back on the past year, we can say he does well with both.

PEGGY BRIDGLAND, an attractive newcomer, has found her place in the social whirl. A brilliant student, Peggy is looked upon with awe by her fellow classmates. She enjoys skiing, riding and reading and her future is undecided.

RICK BENNETT, one of the popular types in our class, is tall and blond. His participation in sports has helped our teams win many games. Annoying teachers with his wit and basketball are his main talents. He hopes to become a doctor.

GORDON DOIG can usually be found in close collaboration with his "EVIL" cronies. Despite his gift for gab, he is quite well-liked. Gord's main interests are unlucky motorbikes and sports. He plans to be a physicist.

SHARON BROWN was only with us for a little while, and as she moved this December, we didn't get to know her very well. However, she was well-liked by those who knew her best. Her artistic ability may indicate a career in the arts.

ROBERTA WRAY, a redhead with a low kindling point, livens up the class. While naturally gay and talkative, her pet peeve is teachers who don't realize redheads have a temper. However, she gets along well with everyone.

MIKE NEWMAN, while quite quiet, is quick and attentive, but just can't master the horrors of Latin. Don't worry Mike---you'll never run into any ancient Romans. His interests include soccer, floor hockey, track and Royal Roads.

ALFRED CROSS---"Man of Mystery", describes Alf. Although Alf, a good English student, is a quiet man in class, he is a riot afterwards. He prefers not to disclose his interests or ambitions, but lots of luck anyway, Alf!

DOUG DAVISON---this class clown's obscure back corner provides him with an excellent atmosphere for mischief. His pet peeves are scooters and teachers. Doug enjoys travelling, Paris and eating. To be a teacher, is his wish.

LIONEL WOODRUFF, the quietest boy in our class, is a paradox---he is also the smartest. His hobbies are horse-back riding, reading and badminton. If he survives his daily ordeal of catching the bus, he would like to be a professor.

RON GRAHAM, an active participant in English class discussions, is interested in becoming an English teacher, we think! He is interested in tennis, current affairs and reading. His pet peeve is DeGaulle---other ambitions, unknown.

ELIZABETH RAMSAY left G.N.H.S. early in January much to the dismay of us all. Well-liked by her classmates, Beth was one of the few with homework done. We hope Beth will have the same success in her new school as she enjoyed here.

BILL SMITH, a new addition to Metz, is very soft-spoken and quiet. Bill wants to become a better student with the help of the very capable Miss Grant. His interest in model airplanes indicates a desire to become a pilot.

BARBARA ANDREW, well-known as a skilled typist, hopes to be a secretary. Her current interests include records, reading and, of course, a special boy. Very attractive, she has many friends in the school.

BARRY BEAUPRE, popular with his classmates, has a universal ambition to make a mint of money. With his favourite expression being "Can I borrow fifty cents please?" and his pastimes, including writing out I. O. U.'s, this ambition seems a little improbable.

SUSAN BELAND'S main ambition at present is to further her education and strive for her B. A. Her hobbies include records and travelling in Europe. Unfortunately, she just left for Ramstein where we know she will be welcomed.

BRUCE BROWN, one of the class clowns, is always ready with a quip. He wants to be an Air Marshal. His spare time is divided, although rather unevenly, between guitar playing and Monique.

LAURIE CRAIGIE, who's favorite expression "slick" can describe anything from a neat car to a passing mark in school, wants to have a hot sports car when he gets back to Canada. His pet peeves are Metz and school.

BRIAN CURRIE, a red-headed newcomer this year, is a welcome addition to the geometry class. He doesn't particularly like the rush we fight at lunch time every day. Brian intends to have a million dollars and a fleet of sports cars.

BEVERLY DAVISON, one person doing a lot for French-Canadian relationships, collects key chains and teaches dancing during her spare time. She plans on working as a hairdresser after she finishes school.

CHERYL EVANS, a hardworking and attractive young miss, is our class representative. Cheryl has the ambition, which is common to all girls--to get married. Her main interests are centered around a certain grade eleven boy.

GARY FITZGERALD, an intellectual type, famed for his impersonations, continually attains high standards both in his academic work and sports. Gary still has a year left and it will be a sad day when he departs.

ED LEGERE is the other half of our two-man Air Force team in the class and has showed a special affinity for geometry. Always one to voice his opinions, he can be counted on to shed light on any situation.

DAVE LEWIS, well known for his scooter antics, has been vainly trying to get his bike running again. Mechanically-minded, he can fix just about anything--except his scooter. Dave is going home this year and will be greatly missed.

TERRY MacKAY can be seen driving around on his mobylette even in winter. A boy scout, Terry is now trying for his Queen's Scout Badge. A friendly fellow, Terry has many friends in the school.

JUDI MacKINNON is one of the more lively members of the class. She wants to be a female garbage collector (?) and we wish her success! Her pet peeve is teachers looking over her shoulder during exams.

DAVE McLAUGHLIN, whose friends affectionately call him "El Yappo", wants to join the RCMP, and if this happens, we know our country will be in good hands. His romantic life having faltered, he has turned to girl watching.

JENNIFER MILLS hopes to be a private secretary. Right now, she is interested in sports and, of course, boys--especially French ones. Her favourite expression "Shock" can be heard all over the room when she is bothered by something.

DONNA NEAL has left us for (4) Wing and she will be missed by all. Donna was a cheerleader and was active in basketball and volleyball. This young miss expects to be a nurse some day--Good luck, Donna!

MIKE PEARSON is an enthusiastic guinea pig breeder. He hopes to get a motorcycle soon. In the past two years he has found friends in the school, and many a junior grade female admirer.

JIM RANSON, one of the quiet, more studious members of our class, plans to be an electrical engineer. It seems probable that he will attain his goal because he is always near the top of his class.

DAVE SWITZER, one of the two Airmen of our class, has shown a lot of intelligence. He flies model airplanes in his spare time and his weekends are sensibly spent doing--you know what! Dave leaves us after the Christmas Holidays for Toronto where he will continue school.

LYNN TAYLOR fits the saying "The best things come in small packages" perfectly. This tiny ball of fun has a good word for everyone. She plans to become a nurse--oh, those lucky patients!

GLEN TERNENT, the artist of the class, plans to pursue this talent in the future by becoming an automotive stylist. He has missed hockey since he left Canada. He is very well-known for his comical facial expressions and friendliness.

HENRY WALKER, alias "El Tubbo", has great aspirations to be a professional baseball player. This life should fit in well with his hobbies of eating and sleeping, and taking it easy. Henry is an all-round fellow.

LINDA WATTS, a newcomer to France this year, has immediately made friends here with everyone. She wants to be a nurse, and her current hobby is collecting dolls from European countries. Best of luck, Linda.

DAVE WHITE has the typical male ambition of having lots of money, sports cars, and an easy life. He has varied opinions about France, and all his spare time is occupied in thinking of Canada and Canadian girls.

Students' Council

BACK ROW: G. Letcher, D. Angus, J. MacQuarrie, C. Evans, C. O'Hara, M. Amendola, M. Hack, E. Doucet

The General Navereau Students' Council has had interests this year in many fields. Social activities began in September with the customary Initiation Dance and the investiture of all newcomers at the Kangaroo Court. Hallowe'en and Sadie Hawkins dances followed later in the term, and our Inter-Wing Valentine's Dance in February was a great success in spite of the fact that only 4 (F) Wing managed to attend.

However, along with these affairs, the Students' Council has undertaken and supported many more serious projects. Uniforms for the boys' basketball team were finally purchased, and General Navereau High School played host to the visiting teams during the Inter-Wing Basketball Tournament in March. There has also been an attempt to select and order school jackets for those who would like them. In March, the grade ten classes held a bake-sale which, although less profitable than was hoped for, was still quite successful.

All in all, the Students' Council has played an active role this year in organizing and executing school projects and has tried hard to represent the students of General Navereau well.

The Drama Club was formed this fall under the guidance of Miss Grant and Mr. Murzello. Regular rehearsals for "Judge Knott Presiding" began shortly after, and were attended enthusiastically by all the stars and starlets.

Many of us made our stage debut in this hilarious play, which was presented, or rather offered at the Christmas Assembly. Needless to say, many long hours of tedious rehearsing and endless nights of worry were spent by both actors and directors. At length, we felt that the play would be ready by the deadline, but no one felt confident that he himself was prepared to go on stage. The whole cast suffered from nervousness and last minute jitters, but as it turned out, the production was a real success, and we were all hailed as budding actors and actresses.

Our next production, staged at the Variety Show, was the "Ugly Duckling", which, in my biased opinion, was a supreme effort for the Drama Club. Thanks to the leadership of the Glee Club sitting in the front row, the audience managed to laugh at the more humorous parts of this play. But, I'm sure everyone enjoyed it--the actors, certainly!

T H E   V A R I E T Y   S H O W

The 1963 Variety Show on February 27 and 28 got off to a great start with a rousing welcome being sung by our attractive and active Glee Club and Cheerleaders. The group was accompanied by Mrs. Drew on the piano and directed by Miss Grant, who was substituting for the regular director, Miss McKessock, who was ill with the flu. Miss Rafferty assisted with the Cheerleaders.

The preparations for this well-organized program were made many weeks in advance. Strains of "Knick Knack Paddy Wack" and "A Grand and Gracious Welcome" drifted down the halls at noon-hour showing the long hard hours the Glee Club spent learning and arranging their selections.

Casting for "The Ugly Duckling" started two months in advance of the actual show time to ensure a good and entertaining play for the final night. Miss Grant and Mr. Murzello put their heads and ideas together and came up with a wonderful surprise for everyone. The costumes were stunning and the make-up was well done by the members of the make-up committee. Bonnie Smith and Lionel Woodruff played the leading roles of princess and prince. Leigh Blair played the comical chancellor. This resulted in a both serious and comical play. The reaction of the audience indicated that the play was a great success.

The whole evening in itself was very amusing and entertaining and it certainly was a Variety show, with acts ranging from a lively football game to musical solos to gymnastic exhibitions.

Patricia (Trish) McGale gave an excellent vocal rendition of "Summertime". Francis MacNamara and Peter Baril sang several French songs and were followed by Dave Ledoux and Ed Doucette, who displayed their guitar-playing talents. A humorous element was added to the show with Frank Kellerman and his notorious and hilarious "Mother-in-Law" jokes.

The football skit consisted of Gary Fitzgerald, Brian Ball and Michael Blair giving a play-by-play account of an imaginary Grey Cup game with the two teams on the stage. The game was held on a foggy day and during the last few minutes of play, Michael Blair went out onto the field to see what was going on as the fog was so thick. In doing so, he was tackled and got up with a black eye. During half-time, our cheerleaders came on stage to lead a cheer for the East and for the West with the audience participating. Leslie Payne led the cheering.

Another interesting act was the teachers, who in their usual good form put on a comical skit called Leister Squares. Mr. MacNamara gave an able rendition of "A Teacher's Lot is Not an 'Appy One", accompanied by the classroom-cracked voices of the rest of the group.

The Judo demonstration, led by Gary Ball, did an excellent job in explaining this ancient art. The gymnasts and the trampoline artists mixed the serious with the hilarious and gave a very entertaining exhibition. Among the participants were Marlene Hack, Joan Murray, Larry Schaufele, Brian Millage, Donald MacKinnon and Alan Reynolds.

The entire cast sang a lively closing chorus to the '63 Variety Show leaving everyone in good spirits and looking ahead to next year's show.

This year, the School Choir was organized as a Glee Club. Miss McKessock directed, Bev Davison was President, Janet MacQuarrie was Secretary and Mrs. Drew acted as our pianist.

During the month of December, the Glee Club was invited to sing at the Old Folks Home in downtown Metz for their Christmas party. The Glee Club started by singing an Indian song known as the "Huron Carole" in French and English. Then, they did a song of German origin -- "Christ was Born". Janet MacQuarrie accompanied the Glee Club on the bongos for the song "African Noel". Janet, Nancy Rowland and Claudette Reed sang "Silver Bells". The club was treated to soft-drinks and pastries after the show. "We Wish You a Merry Christmas" was sung before departing.

At the annual school Christmas assembly, the Glee Club led the rest of the school in a sing-song of Christmas Carols and entertained with several choral selections, including "African Noel", complete with bongos.

The organization also performed at the General Navereau Variety Show. They sang "This Old Man", "Michael" and "Rocka Ma Soul". The next event for which the club is practising is the Awards Night in June. We hope they will be as successful on this occasion as in the past.

BOYS' ATHLETICS

FOOTBALL

At the start of the 1962 season, the G. N. H. S. Football Team took the field for the first time as the defending champions. Thus, the team had a good reputation to uphold as well as being "the team to beat". Due to the loss of several key figures on both the offensive and defensive teams, it was felt that it would be more difficult to win the trophy again than had been the case the previous season.

The team, desirous of repeating last year's success, played the first game against the Lorraine High School team at 2 (F) Wing, defeating their team by a score of 14 - 0. The individual scorers were Gary Fitzgerald (8 points) and Pete Baril (6 points). Ron Bauman, running from half-back slot accounted for 120 yards on the ground. A fair amount of penalties were given out during the game, and on one occasion a 70-yard touch-down run by Pat Rushton was called back because of some misdemeanour on the line.

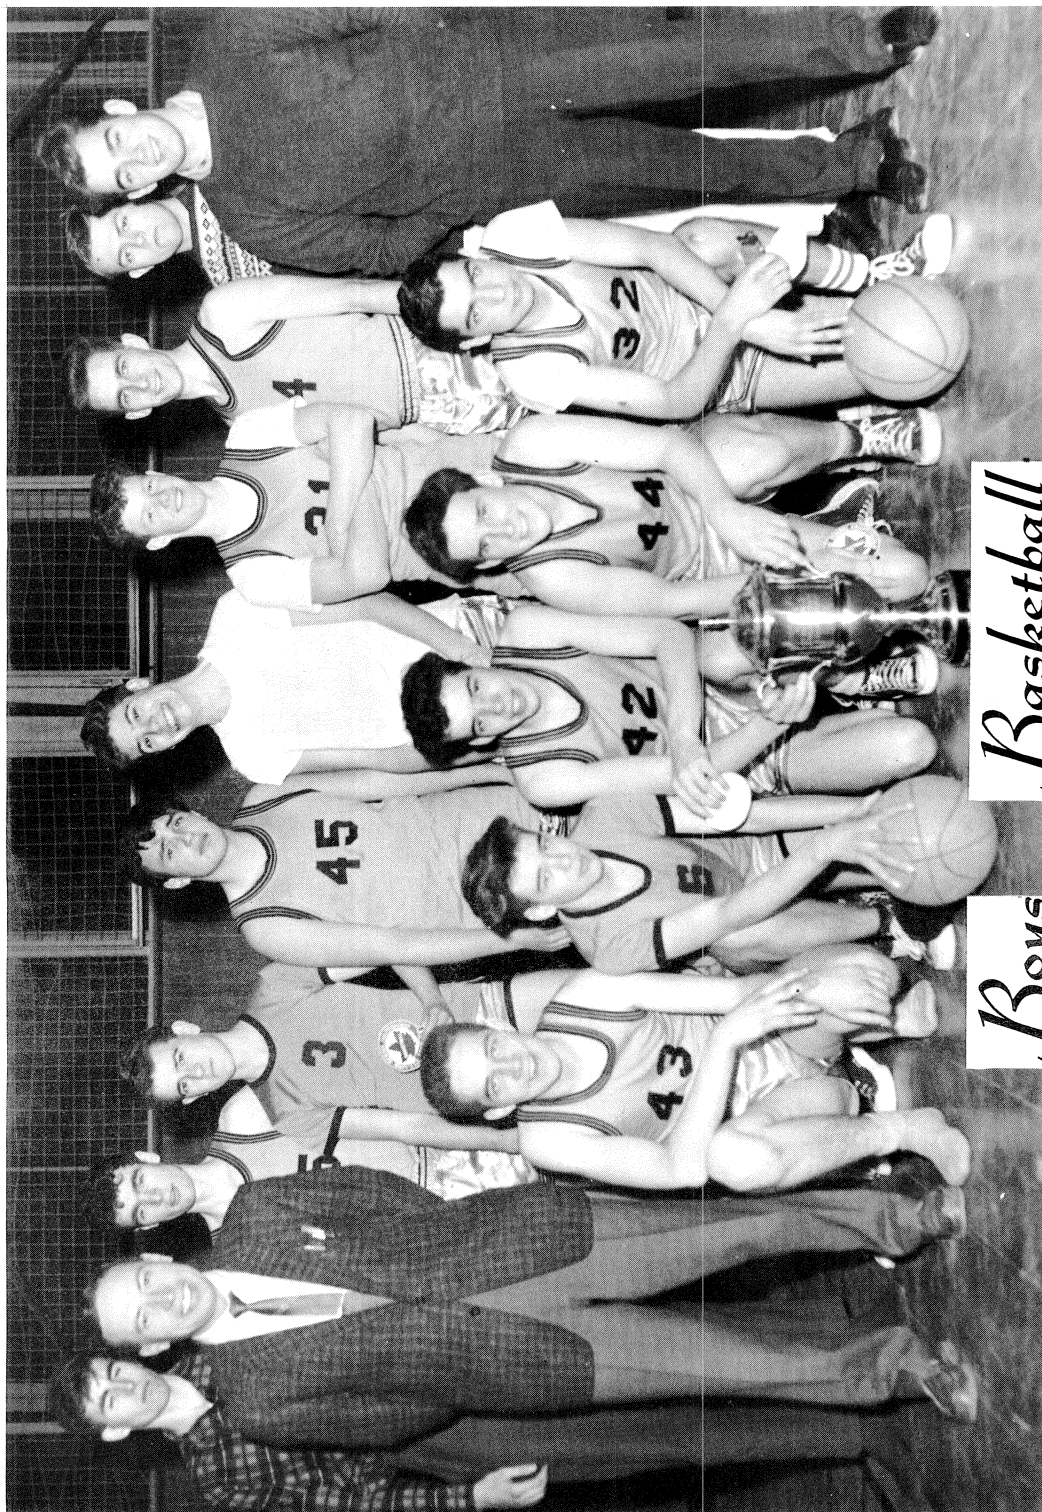

A repeat performance was effected against 1 (F) Wing when the Metz team defeated them 14 - 0. Touch - downs were scored by Ken Noice and Larry Schaufele with Schaufele catching 4 passes for 79 yards.

Almost two weeks later, the team travelled to 4 (F) Wing in Germany, where they trounced a spirited but out-played group, 30 - 6. Although gaining only 350 yards, Metz capitalized on every opportunity, recovering fumbles and stopping the 4 (F) Wing offense. Scorers were Gary Fitzgerald (11 points), Pat Rushton, Alan O'Connor, and Ron Bauman, each adding 6 points. Bauman gained a total of 111 yards in rushing.

Two days after the 4 (F) Wing game, Metz met 3 (F) Wing, traditional rivals, who had also been undefeated in their previous games. Although we had won the trophy the year before, 3 (F) Wing had handed them their only defeat in the previous season. The game was actually far from exciting from the point of view of closeness as Metz literally slaughtered them 34 - 0. A total of 706 yards was gained; 313 rushing, 255 passing and 138 on interceptions. Alan O'Connor chalked up 184 yards, mainly on punt-returns, while Ken Noice was leading scorer with three touch-downs.

The following week the championship game took place at Metz between G. N. H. S. and 3 (F) Wing. This game was no repeat performance of the first, and the spirited visitors were leading 6 - 0 at the three-quarter mark. Mid-way through the fourth quarter, Alan O'Connor "twisted" from the 10 yard line for a TD which was converted by Fitzgerald, making the score 7 - 6. Not saying 'die' until the bitter end, the visiting team made two unsuccessful field goal attempts in the last two minutes of play and were thwarted by a hard-hitting Metz defense.

As a result of this win, the team won again the trophy and it was presented by the manager of the Bank of Montreal, Mr. McKenna, on the field to the co-captains, Ernie Ferne and Peter Baril.

In the Inter-Section League this year, the High School sponsored two teams---the Senior Team and the "Bees". Each team played a total of ten games, and the Senior Team had a record of 9 - 1. A few highlights of this highly successful season were:

The Senior Team played the "Bees" twice, trouncing them by scores of 81 - 21 and 98 - 28. The Senior Team's only defeat came at the hands of Support Unit, by a close 53 - 51 score. Quite the opposite of the Senior Team, the record held by the "Bees" was quite disappointing--a miserable 0 in 10 record. Although led by their stars Laurie Craigie and Glen Ternent, they just couldn't seem to break into the win column in the statistics.

Although the hard-working Senior Team was successful in the regular season, they were beaten in the semi-finals by the Chateau Team.

The high scorer of the season was Ken Noice, who had an average of just under 20 points per game.

After all this practice, the Senior Team entered the Inter-Wing High School Tournament held here at Metz. With little trouble, the team beat all four wings, and then went into the finals to beat 2 (F) Wing 47 - 36, winning the Inter-Wing High School Championship for Metz. The Tournament high scorer was Anthony (Whimp) Humphreys, with 68 points for five games.

Being the Air Force D. N. D. Champions, Metz was challenged by Soest, who had previously won the Army D. N. D. Championship, to take part in a two-game total point series, in order to decide the European High School Champions.

Metz won two close games 40 - 39, and 40 - 35, emerging the victors with an 80 - 74 total. Our star forward, Ken Noice, led the team to victory, and was once again high scorer.

All in all, it was a highly successful basketball season for the G. N. H. S. Senior Team, consisting of:

Forwards:	Ken Noice
	Terry Hudson
	Brian Ball
	Rick Bennett
	Gary Fitzgerald
	Alan O'Connor
Guards:	Anthony Humphries

GIRLS' ATHLETICS

BASKETBALL

The students of General Navereau High School were hosts for the Inter-Wing Basketball Tournament, Friday, March 1 and Monday, March 2. The girls' events took place at the Colin Caserne gymnasium at the American base.

The General Navereau girls team sported new black uniforms with gold and black striped skirts. The girls, led by team captain, Carol Mayer, and encouraged by their coaches, Miss Rafferty and Mr. Prothero, played well and hard, but the 4 (F) Wing team won the trophy.

Our girls fought a rough and tumble game as did the other teams. Although, not successful, the experience of playing in a tournament was both interesting and rewarding. Although, many of our girls were wearing bandages, it was due mainly to the fact that there was a nice looking American Doctor on hand to administer medical help. Even, the scorers got into the act with their splitting headaches due to the 'excitement' of the game.

Among those participating, were: Dale Mayer, Carol Ternent, Diane Amendola and Patsy Hudson (Grade 9); Pat Hainstock, Winslea Roy and Kathy O'Hara (Grade 10); Linda Wright and Linda Watts (Grade 11) and Carol Mayer and Leslie Walker (Grade 12).

VOLLEYBALL

After many long weeks of practice and drill, the Girls' Volleyball Team went to Germany as guests of 3 (F) Wing for a tournament held at Zweibrücken.

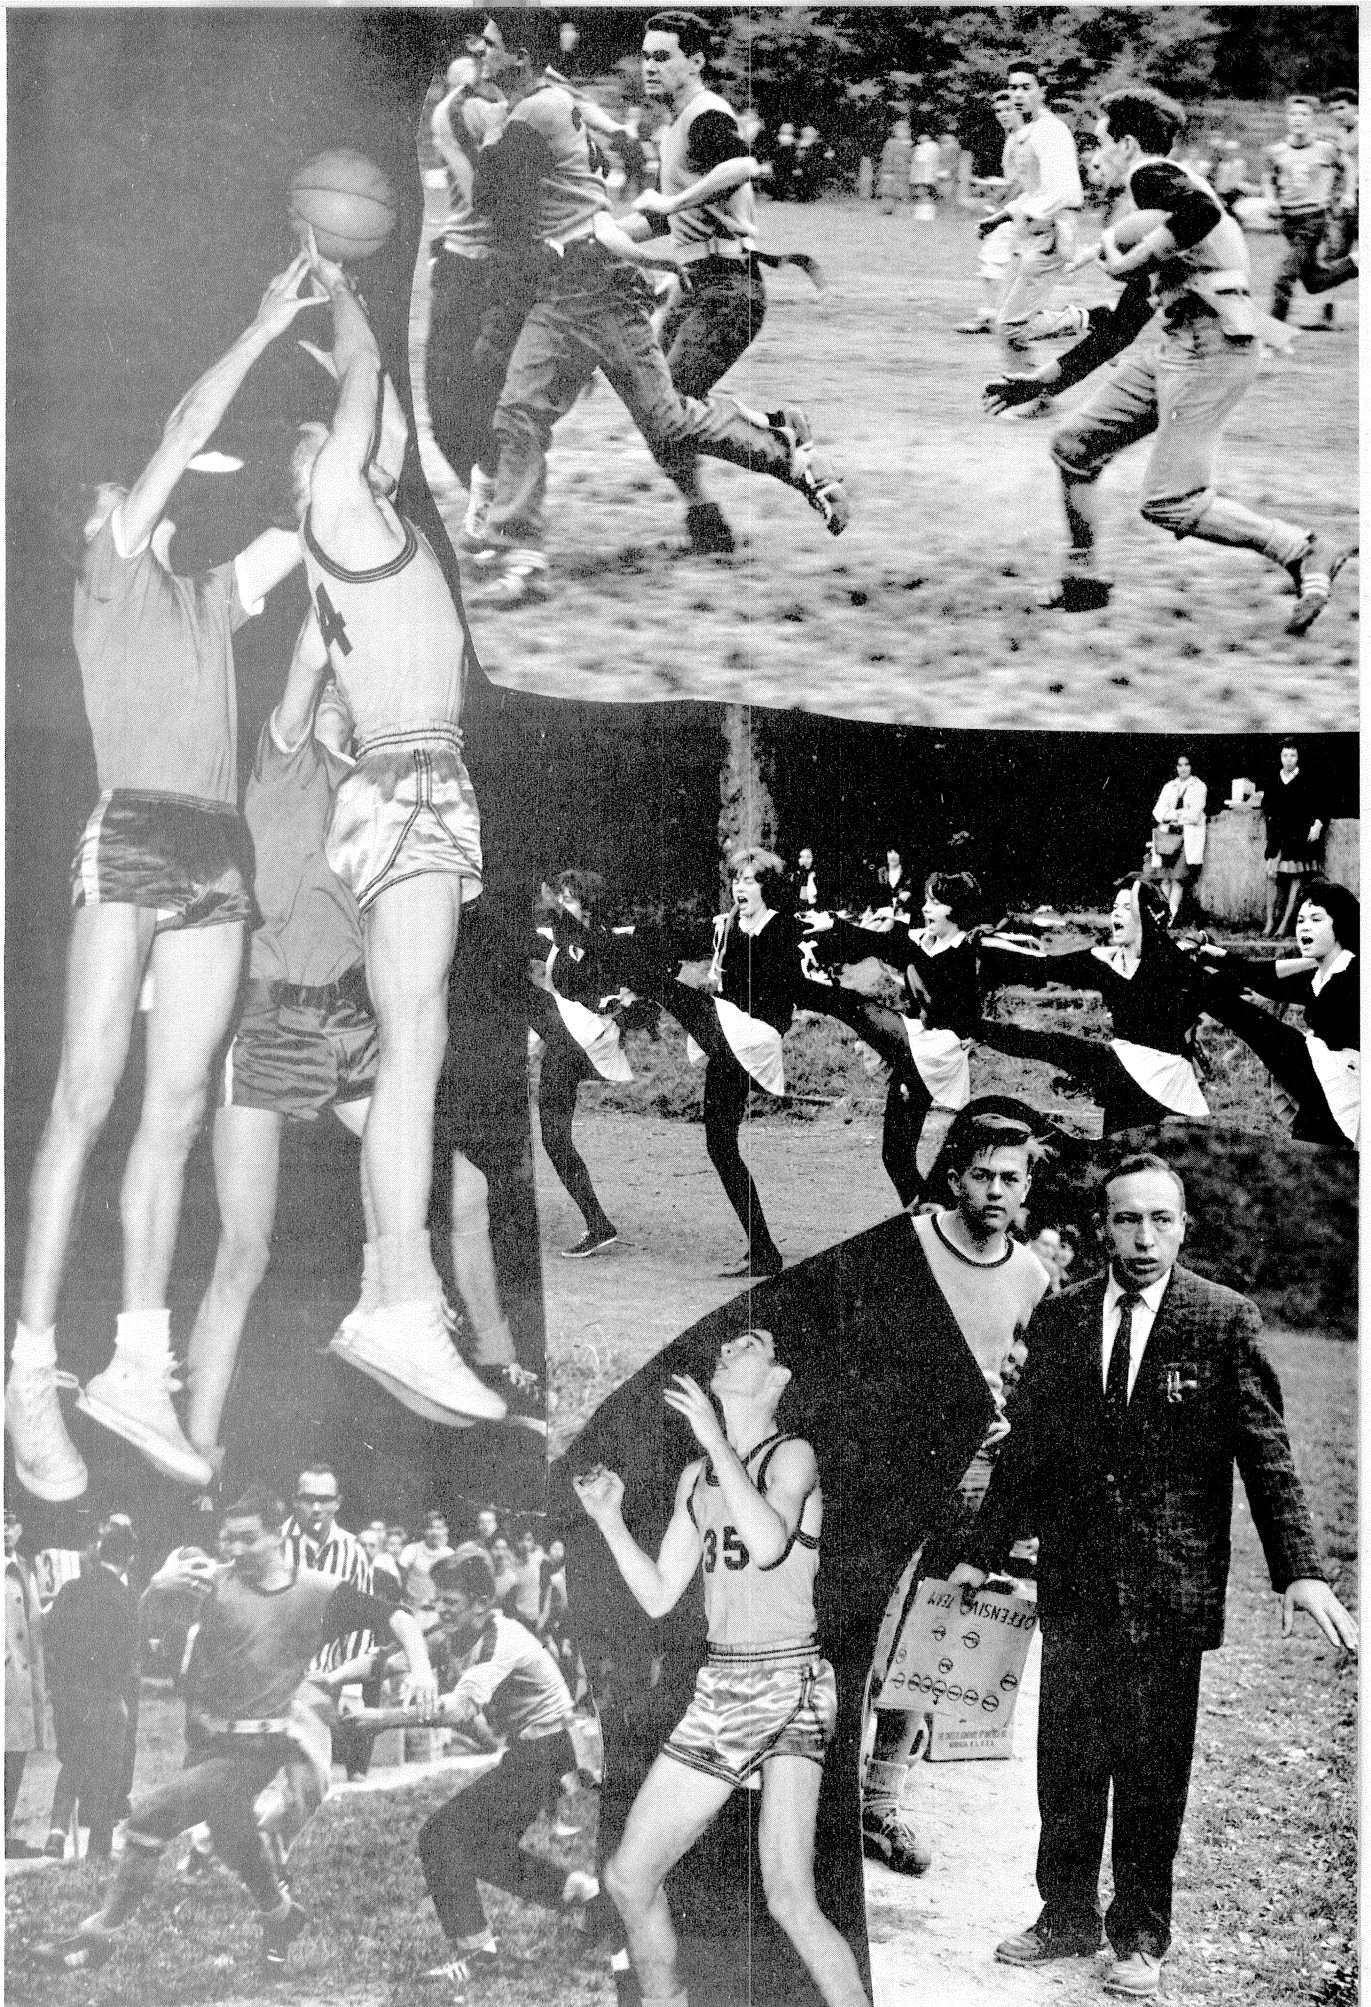

The General Navereau Girls' team placed fourth in this tournament although they made a much better showing than in the basketball tournament. The first game was lost to 3-Wing by a score of 16 - 4, but the second game was closer with a score of 16 - 14 for the opponents. This gave the first set to 3-Wing. The second set was very close, with our team winning one game, but the set finally went to 2-Wing. In the third set, 4-Wing, the existing champions, edged out a victory over the valiant players from Metz. Rather than becoming discouraged, the girls seemed to rally for the last set by sweeping 1-Wing by a score of 15 - 5 in the first game. The opponents edged out a 15 - 13 win in the second game, but our girls made a tremendous effort in the dying moment to win by a score of 15 - 13.

CHEERLEADING CONTEST

After the Basketball Tournament sponsored by 1 Air Division on March 1, a Cheerleading Contest was held at the dance in the gymnasium. All four wings submitted entries and enthusiasm into the competition.

The General Navereau Cheerleaders wore their gold blouses and skirts, black V-necked sweaters, gold socks and black shoes with pom-poms and looked more than usually attractive under the lights of the gymnasium.

As the historical and picturesque city of Paris gradually hides the sinking sun, multi-coloured lights begin to shine over the increasingly lively metropolis. While coming down the well-known avenue, Champs Elysees, we can see the eternal fire burning freely, creating a red glow under the massive Arc de Triomphe at La Place de l'Etoile. This square was titled "Etoile", meaning star, because from it branch twelve streets of the grand city, giving it that appearance.

Continuing our interesting tour down the historic avenue, we pass by many famous night clubs, theatres, restaurants and shops until we reach the familiar Place de la Concorde. Here, old street lamps make conspicuous the popular landmarks, such as Cleopatra's obelisk, the ornate fountain there, the Parliament building and in the distance, Les Invalides containing Napoleon's tomb.

The large park just off the Place de la Concorde is very silent and calm now with its still trees and glittering ponds, at the end of which stands the largest palace in the world---the Louvre.

Now we change districts and travel to Montmartre by the rumbling Metro, less crowded than the streets. Pigalle is our first stop, and the animated lights dazzle their array of colours before our eyes, flashing signs such as the Moulin Rouge and Folies Bergere. On leaving this area of Montmartre for Sacre - Coeur, less splashed with colour but filled with much more beauty, we pass the place where the Bastille stood before the French Revolution.

Sacre-Coeur sits at the top of her hill of Montmartre, overlooking her worldly city. To my mind, one of the world's most beautiful churches reeks with elegance, grace and an air of holiness and solemnity. Around her sleeps the painters' square, and the wax museum which depicts the history of old Paris by day.

While one gazes down the Seine, a dark area stands out along its bank where La Conciergerie stands, which once held prisoner Marie Antoinette before she was beheaded during the French Revolution. Our eyes pick out the more pleasant scene of Notre-Dame standing in its grandeur, displaying its magnificent windows, steeples and its island solitude. Dazed by the glitter of the reflecting water, our eyes travel to and up the renowned Eiffel Tower which appears to be gold by the night lights.

From the candle-lit restaurant on the second level of the Eiffel Tower, the absolutely breathtaking view hard to take in and digest explains Paris' glorious title: "The City of Lights".

THE SPLENDOR THAT WAS METZ

Our foster city, Metz, once knew the glory and magnificance of the Roman Empire and all its pomp and ceremony. Under Roman rule it prospered, grew like a tropical plant hidden deep in the under-growth of Northern France; a veritable oasis set in the midst of a savage desert.

The thundering hooves of haughty mares whipping the chariots of ~~mobles~~ through the streets once resounded over the cobblestones laid by the Romans. The rising tempo at the arrival of a legion from some distant outpost distinctly revealed itself as the people crowded the road-sides, tree-tops and windows to watch the troops march in perfect rhythm through the city.

The great arena was the focal point of attention on holidays, where the Messins gathered for entertainment of all kinds--wrestling, boxing, mock battles, bear-beating and displays of trained animals. This large wooden structure had a capacity of many thousands, and was usually packed to the limit. Its memory survives in the Rue Aux Arenes.

The Romans engineered an aqueduct from Gorze which supplied the city with an absolutely crystal-clear and mountain-pure source of water. The city was heavily fortified, encompassed by a high, thick wall and an intricate system of moats. City administration was run in an orderly, efficient manner by competent men, selected by the leading citizens.

But besides enriching the city materially, the Romans helped refine the language and educate the people in the ways of governing and engineering. They were upright citizens, of greatest integrity, and felt immeasurable pride in their city. And even though this ancient city was devastated by the Huns some fifteen hundred years ago, we, its adopted children, can still see the remnants of a once glorious city in the character of the people and their great heritage.

SPRINGTIME IN FRANCE

Everywhere the Earth is 'Wakening!
Teeming with life, but yet unborn,
The seedlings strive to burst the bonds
Of rich soil, their parent and guardian.

Crocus, iris, and tulip! Like jewels
You grace the greening fields
With colour heightened to a peak,
Your blossoms nurtured by Nature's tools.

The trill of birds rings through the air,
Commanding the ear in sweet refrain,
The grass whispers in the wind,
And the hum of insects is everywhere.

This is the Spring meant for those
Who love, by nature, the gifts of God.
These are His gifts to eyes and ears,
Enjoy them, and never your heart will close.

THE BULLFIGHT

Please come with me to the most exciting place in Europe---the bullfight. If you have already been, you will want to come again, and if you haven't, I can guarantee that you'll have the most thrilling time of your life.

We are sitting on rented cushions in the third row of the Barcelona bullring, seemingly lost in a sea of dark, swarthy faces with eager, excited black eyes. Our hearts leap with fear as the black "DIABLE" thunders into the sun-bathed ring, tossing his menacing horns and bellowing bold defiance.

Two picadors on horseback canter out. The bull, seeing the horses, goes mad with rage, paws the dust and hurls himself at the foremost horse, knocking him and his rider to the ground. The fallen picador leaps to safety, leaving his horse screaming with the pain from his gaping wounds. The crowd roars its disapproval; cushions, hats and pillows rain down into the ring, and we are forced to sit on hard cement. The dying horse is dragged from the ring as the remaining picador approaches the bull. He grips his long spear, aims, and plunges it deep into the bull's shoulder, gouging deep gashes to paralyze vital nerves.

The nimble banderillos take our breath away as they leap those blood-smearred horns to plant their gaily-coloured barbs in the deep black glossy hide which is already matted with blood and gore.

The band blares forth announcing that the time has arrived for the climax. A slim, lithe figure dressed in glittering gold, carrying a scarlet cape draped over an ornately jewelled sword, strides purposefully into the ring and approaches the governor's box to receive formal permission to kill the bull.

The matador takes his position, with feet firmly planted, in front of the bull, and challenges the bull to attack. The bull charges. The matador whirls his cape. Those deadly horns rake the air inches from an unmoving leg. The crowd echoes each rally with a loud "Ole". As the rallies become more and more intricate and daring, the crowd breaks into a frenzy of whispers and cheers.

To our horror, the matador suddenly turns on his heel and, with his back to the bull, makes a sweeping bow to the crowd. The confused, suffering animal remains standing in the same spot, groaning and complaining in a piteous way.

The time has come for the kill. The matador approaches the bull slowly, poises his sword, and stabs it deep into the animal's skull. The bull shudders and collapses in a quivering heap, his miserable ordeal over at last. A team of horses in a red harness bedecked with jingling bells drags the sad sight away.

Five more bulls will be slain today, but as we are not bloodthirsty Spaniards but only Canadian tourists, we will have to end our thrilling European adventure.

L I F E   I N   F R A N C E

In the four years that I have lived in France I have learned many things about the French people and their land. The standard of living in France is lower, on the overall, than that of Canada. I have spent holidays at French homes and summer camps with my school friends. In a French home one would rarely find a mix-master, toaster or electric frying pan. In preparing their foods, the French do not care for canned foods. They much prefer homemade meals. I have noted also that they have a definite pattern for serving their meals. In the mornings, they have café au lait with bread and jam. At noon, they have their big dinner which usually consists of salad, meat, potatoes, vegetables, fruit, cheese and wine. At 4 o'clock, they have a ~~tea~~ or "gouter", which consists of bread, jam and coffee. At supper-time they have a relatively small lunch which consists of soup, sandwiches and dessert with tea.

In the schools, the French people are more advanced than Canadians. From the first grades, the children learn to write with nib pens. By using ink from the very start, the children learn to think before they write. This way, they make fewer errors. The French student receives a report card every month, and in private schools, the student receives one every week. The school sports consist of mainly high jumping, rope climbing, races, shot put, discus throw and physical exercises. The school uniforms are smocks. The colours vary with the schools, but girls are usually dressed in blue and the boys, in grey.

The French people take great pride in their gardens. Almost every French family has a flower garden as well as a vegetable garden. The vegetable gardens usually consist of beans, peas, cresson, parsley, radishes, salad, berries and onions. In some French homes, where the members are elderly, one may find a cow or horse in the court-yard of the house. Very often the animal must walk through the house to go to pasture.

The wars have caused very bitter feelings between the French and German people. Many French people who live in Northeast France have German ancestors because of the occupations.

The French people have a custom, which although familiar in Canada, it is more pronounced in France. It is the handshake. With regards to this custom, it has a more personal touch in France. No matter how many times a Frenchman greets a friend, it is always with a firm handshake and, if it is a dear friend, the handshake is accompanied with a kiss on both cheeks.

Although our tour in France is coming to an end, I will always cherish fond memories of France. Vive la France!

MY GREATEST EXPERIENCE

One evening in April of 1960 when I returned from school--this was before I came to France--my mother and father greeted me at the door and excitedly told me we were posted to France. Then, I didn't know what to think, but next day at school I began feeling down in the dumps, because two of my friends who had previously been in France began telling me I was just in for a lot of manure piles.

The next few months I was too busy contemplating my so-called misfortune and packing to realize how fast time can fly. Before I knew it, it was July 15, our sailing date, and my brothers and I, along with my parents, excitedly climbed the gang plank (I had just about forgotten what my friends had said) to meet this new adventure.

Immediately I began exploring the great mammoth which was docked in Montreal. I found the entire trip so fascinating that it seemed like only a day and night before we reached Le Havre. We were taken off the ship and our baggage put through customs. Then, we proceeded on our way on a kind of train to another train depot. From here we boarded another but larger train which took us directly to Paris. We were tired of travelling and so went right to bed knowing that we had to be ready to leave by 5.00 the next morning for Metz, our final destination.

The time again went quickly, and before I knew it, we arrived in Metz on an early train. My parents had made previous arrangements to be met by some of our friends, whom we had known in Canada, and sure enough, there they were. They took us directly to their own house, and later to the only apartment they could get for us.

The apartment was like something you read about in stories about slums. It was on the second floor of an old building with a small dirty balcony and big brownish-grey shutters. The ceiling, walls and floors were covered with a dirt which would not come off; the place was a mess!

We had to live in that dreary old apartment for one whole month before my father found another place. This new house was a vast contrast to the old apartment. It was situated in a quiet little district away from the city noises and was very comfortable. It had many large, clean rooms and even a big garage.

We soon discovered that we had very nice French neighbours with a son my age and a daughter just a little younger. My parents grew to be very good friends of these French neighbours and I grew to be a very good friend of their son and daughter.

They have invited us many times to join them in their big and delicious French meals and we have treated them mutually. Surprisingly, they enjoyed our Canadian meals which are so different from their meals.

These French neighbours are very well-to-do people and together we have gone many places. We have travelled around parts of France, through the Benelux countries and through Germany. This summer, we have made plans together with our next-door French friends to go to Switzerland, Italy and take in the French Riviera on the way back.

It is now almost time for the summer holidays and I know that when they come, I shall fulfill the final part of my greatest experience. I only wish that other Canadian students, of all ages, could be as lucky as I to have such an educational and unforgettable opportunity as I have had.

Look ye to the heavens, for destiny lies in the steadfast stars.

The cloudless night sky was unlimited vastness,
Lifting the world to its dark immense reaches
A pale scimitar-moon knifed the heavens obliquely
And shone like a slit in the curtain of darkness.

Cold and unwinking the stars stood out plainly
Like hard naked lights they effulgently blazed
In sharp contrast to this void of ebony blackness---
A black smoked crystal with diamonds encrusted.

The dark sky embraced the far reaches of distance
Beyond thought, beyond dreams, beyond imagination;
Against it the cold stars were bitterly brilliant
Aflame with white majesty, steadily constant.

The stars are our destiny, so, Man, be bold!
And plan and dream long, for they never grow old.

In a French language competition, sponsored by the Ministère de l'Education Nationale and the Mission Centrale de Liaison pour l'Assistance aux Armées Alliées, in which they were competing against the other D. N. D. schools in France as well as all American schools in this country, they took first prize in the Senior and Junior divisions.

Doug and Pat won the right to proceed to the finals at Sevres by coming first in their respective divisions at Air Div., for which they received book prizes. All contestants were then lodged and fed at the French Normal School at Sevres, and enjoyed the presentation banquet and a conducted tour of Paris. #### Inter-Wing Track Meet

The Track and Field Team from Metz, comprising of approximately forty-five members, placed second in the Inter-Wing Meet held at 4(F) Wing, Germany, on the 18th of May. Throughout the whole hot afternoon, the battle for first place see-sawed back and forth between 4(F) Wing, 2(F) Wing, and Metz and at one time, all were tied at 79 points apiece. The final outcome was decided during the last events of the day, the relays, in which 2(F) Wing held the edge.

The afternoon was highlighted by the setting of a great number of new records in various events. From Metz, those who set records were: JUNIOR DIVISION - Alan Bowlby in the 220 yd. sprint, (26.8) and the running broad jump. (17'4"); Bob Partridge in the 8lb. shot put (32'8½"). INTERMEDIATE DIVISION - Linda Titley in the 100 yd. dash (12.0), Cathy Bradshaw in 60 yd. dash (8.1) and in the softball throw (167'2"). SENIOR DIVISION - Ron Bauman in the discus (105'2"), Ken Noice in the Pole Vault (9'6") and the 100 yd. dash (10.0) but as this was in a heat it could not be used for a record.

Cathy Bradshaw and Alan Bowlby won individual trophies for achievement in their respective class. In addition, the entire intermediate team, sparked by excellent showings in both boys and girls teams, won their class trophy.
